Dear Dr Burleigh

I noticed your new branch listed in the Loyalist Gazette. I am a member of the Calgary branch, and am trying to run down another of my Loyalist ancestors. a grt^{est} Grandmother was named Jane Grant, she was born circa 1796. I have located a family with the proper dates in Frontenac County under the one John Grant. I believe that this John Grant was a member of Burgoyne's Army and that his property was confiscated by the State of Vermont. I was wondering if you had any Grant history that I could get my hands on? There were Grants at Malbrytown as well but I find no Jane listed among them. I suspect that they were related to the Grants of Frontenac County although I don't know the connection. Jane Grant was a resident of Malbry town when she married so this would suggest that some of her family must have moved there after her birth, or she could have been living with the Grants who came to Malbrytown after the war.

I would appreciate any information

Sincerely
Don Malbry.

Dear Dr Burleigh.

Please excuse me for appearing to be such a peasant regarding my request for information regarding Jane Grant. I have spent some time already, going through all the early histories looking for her and the only one that qualifies is the Jane you mentioned dau. of John of Pictsburg County. The date agrees with her birth. I have found no other Jane mentioned anywhere, so I assume this is her; however I was in hope that perhaps something of the connection with the Mallorytown Grants could be found, also that her father John was the John Grant of Burgoyne's army. I think the only hope would be that some of the family had gone into their history and regret that this is not the case.

I wish to thank you for your effort, and perhaps if anything shows up you could advise me? As you are fully aware I'm sure sometimes we have to grasp at straws.

Very Truly
Don Mallory
